Company Overview

Orange Guinée is the largest mobile network operator in Guinée Conakary. The company was formed in 2007, the fourth mobile network operator to enter the region. In 2018 the company provided services in 338 prefectures and held approximately 67% revenue share.

The company provides 2G GSM services over 900 and 1800 MHz bands, and 3G UMTS over B1 (2100 MHz). 3G services are available in most regional cities.

Orange Guinea was awarded a 4G LTE operating licence by the Regulatory Authority for Post and Telecommunications (ARPT) in March 2019. The company subsequently launched the country's first 4G services in April 2019, speculated to be using the B3 (1800 MHz) band (unconfirmed). 4G services are mostly limited to the country's capital Conakary and surrounding areas.
